North Carolina Community Development Association

Serving as the premier professional organization for community and economic development to improve the quality of life in North Carolina

Our Organization

The North Carolina Community Development Association (NCCDA) was formed in 1979 to provide community development practitioners statewide with a single resource for information, training and advocacy. NCCDA is a nonprofit organization dedicated to improving education and achievement of practitioners statewide.

NCCDA hosts an annual conference to provide training, educational and networking opportunities. The conference, held each May, features a business meeting and training events. NCCDA provides mini-workshops throughout the year focused on relevant community and economic development topics.

NCCDA membership is composed of city, county, and regional agencies; nonprofit; and for-profit organizations. The Association is governed by a Board of Directors composed of a President, a Vice President, and a Secretary/Treasurer who are installed by the voting membership every other year during the business meeting at NCCDA's annual conference. The President appoints additional Board Members and Chairpersons of Standing Committees. The Board of Directors is comprised of up to 15 members.

Our Purpose

The North Carolina Community Development Association provides diverse professional development opportunities to member organizations. This will enable you and your staff members to:

- Stay Current and Competitive. NCCDA conferences and trainings feature knowledgeable, skilled community and economic development practitioners. Conferences and other training opportunities are an invaluable way for practitioners to connect with state and federal grants managers.
- Professional Development. NCCDA provides opportunities for practitioners to engage with various community and economic development professionals and agencies from across the State, which helps communities and other agencies to shape and define specific projects of interest.
- Make a Difference. NCCDA is dedicated to enhancing the knowledge, skills and abilities of practitioners to improve North Carolina's quality of life.

Our Membership Benefits

As a member of NCCDA, you will receive the following benefits:

- Access to a member-oriented website with the ability to manage your organization's membership, register for events, make payments online, and communicate with other members and supporters.
- Discounts at NCCDA sponsored conferences and other training events.
- Information about training and professional development opportunities including courses offered by Federal and State funding agencies.
- Updates, information and assistance on legislative initiatives regarding key community and economic development activities.
- Coordination and collaboration with other state and national community and economic organizations.
- Membership-Only Forums to discuss important issues in the industry.
